

Receiving Perishable Products

It's really a simple tip to share this month, but one that can yield great dividends for you. If you are purchasing catch weight products ... buy a scale.

Check catch weights to make sure that you are getting what you pay for. Open the boxes of produce to check for quality, and refuse any products on the spot that don't meet your quality specifications.

Be sure to use your order guide as your reference to ensure that all of the order has been delivered and is intact. Most drivers will pick up on the fact that you keep tight reins on receiving. That information usually makes it back to the supplier and quality will improve.
